Love is the light that transforms our lives

Love has changed my life by having parents that love me.

Parents still love you if you act bad. Love never changes between you and your parents.

Besides your parents loving you, you can have a whole family loving you. They will always love you. Love has really transformed my life.

Love will never change. I love everyone in my family.

When you are born you love everybody. It will never change your life. Love has transformed my life into a happy life. I love everyone.
